Skills and capabilities

➤ Leadership

By understanding human behavior as I learnt in the NLP course and from usual reading, acting, working experience and living aboard, I believe in my abilities to be a successful leader.

➤ Communication

I have gained good communication skills during my course and experience from giving presentations and participating in group work. In addition, during my new live in the UK,

I meet every day new people and I have many friends from different nationality such as Chinese, Japanese and the British.

➤ Problem Solving

My work experience and alienation are the most important things, which develop and improve my way to solve problems and also give me the opportunity to apply my study in the real live and see how it is work. In addition, I learn how I can be flexible with the people and bearing in my mind the multicultural.

➤ IT

During my degrees and relevant work experience I have acquired a good range of IT skills.

➤ Languages

My first language is Arabic and advance level of English language as I specialized in English language as well as I studied my Masters in the UK.
